

'Zygmunt Bauman has known the terror of war and the trauma of exile. These experiences have made him a champion of the underdog and a caustic critic of the status quo. Yet for all his international popularity - he is one of Europe's most influential sociologists - he remains a loner and a maverick.' The Guardian

Professor Zygmunt Bauman, resident in England since 1971 after being driven out of Poland by the Communist government, is one of the world's most eminent social theorists; writing on issues as diverse as modernity and the Holocaust, postmodern consumerism and liquid modernity.

A fascinating look at the role of management in our current, bleak times, and its role in a – hopefully – brighter future

Management in a Liquid Modern World

ZYGMUNT BAUMAN, IRENA BAUMAN, JERZY KOCIATKIEWICZ AND MONIKA KOSTERA

University of Leeds, University of Sheffield, University of Sheffield and University of Warsaw, Poland

What is the meaning of management now almost omnipresent and all-powerful in our current bleak times, a time when, paradoxically, the seemingly omnipotent force of management does not seem to work? Does it have a role to play today and in the future? What can it become and whom should it serve when a new, hopefully more humane, system begins to dawn?

Liquid Modernity

Does the Richness of the Few Benefit Us All?

ZYGMUNT BAUMAN

It is commonly assumed that the best way to help the poor out of their misery is to allow the rich to get richer; and yet these commonly held beliefs are flatly contradicted by our daily experience and an abundance of research findings, so why are these opinions so widespread? This short book by Bauman is an attempt to answer this question.

The Art of Life

ZYGMUNT BAUMAN

This is not a book of designs for the art of life nor a 'how to' book: it is instead a brilliant account of conditions under which our designs-for-life are chosen, of the constraints that might be imposed on their choice and of the interplay of design, accident and character that shape their implementation. Last but not least, it is a study of the ways in which our society influences the way we construct and narrate our life trajectories.
